

MADDALENA

Maddalena is a dining chair inspired by the Lincoln range, just with the addition of the armrests. The rear legs of Maddalena have a structure that continues in the backrest to create a single piece, in aluminum like the other parts to ensure lightness: those features are exactly the same that can be found on the Lincoln chair. The base structure of the front legs, instead, continues in the armrests and grants more stability. The entire structure is covered with Leather (cuoio).
